THE LAST SUPPER + CODEX ATLANTICUS + S. MARIA DELLE GRAZIE CHURCH

2 hours

Price per person (including transfer, guide and museum fees): € 45,00

The refectory of the Dominican convent of Santa Maria delle Grazie, near homonym church, retains one of the most famous paintings in the world: the Last Supper by Leonardo da Vinci. Carried on the north wall of the hall between 1494 and 1498, during the dominion of Ludovico il Moro, the work was painted by Leonardo in “dry” instead of the fresco technique traditionally adopted for the murals. The performance, environmental conditions and historical events over the centuries have led to a serious deterioration of the work, already documented a few years after its conclusion. Over time there have been numerous renovations, the last of which, completed in 1999 and carried out with the latest scientific methods, has recovered the original drafts of color and removed where possible, repainting overlapping in various speeches.

Exposure of the sheets of the Codex Atlanticus, the incredible collection of drawings by Leonardo da Vinci, will make available to the public a glimpse of the genius of the Master that better than anyone, knew how to perceive the connection between the forces of nature and benefits that humanity could draw.

There will be 24 exhibitions until 2015 divided by themes, the exhibit shows the famous 1119 paper code object. It is the largest collection of Leonardo's sheets. The name comes from its large size, typical of an atlas.

Docking at the delightful town of Bellagio, you can follow the steep lanes running up from the lake and stop at boutiques and cafes housed in historic buildings. The tour includes also a visit to the gardens of Villa Melzi d'Eril, the first example of an English garden in Lario. The garden was realised with great care, levelling terrain or building small hills with the goal of making the park seem larger than its true dimensions, among the garden's trees are scattered Egyptian, Etruscan-Roman, Renaissance and neo-classical sculptures. Then, you will have lunch in a typical restaurant next to the lake, from where you can enjoy a wonderful view of the entire lake.

Bellagio is Lario's central headland cape of, by far one of the most beautiful tourist places, not only of Lake Como, but of the entire world. Its beauty has been praised, since the 16th century, by Italian and foreign visitors. Bellagio's charm is first and foremost panoramic, because from here is embraced with a glance, the better part of Lario. Add to that the splendid villas, the profuse lushness of the trees and flowers, the picturesque staircases, the variety of walks and paths, and you can understand how Bellagio merits the title the Pearl of Lake Como.
